

US Landscaping Franchise and Wholesale Nursery Business

US Landscaping Franchise and Wholesale Nursery Business

The envisioned transaction involves two complementary businesses in Georgia:

- High-end landscaping business launched more than two decades ago that became part of a large national franchise in 2019
- High-end specialty wholesale nursery business

The landscaping business provides full-service lawn care and landscaping, delivering industry-leading solutions to high-end residential clients. At the same time, the wholesale nursery is a premier source for unique accent plants. It houses a test garden on-site where different plants are used in the design to see how well they perform in the territory. The two businesses are complementary in part, as some clients are interested in more straightforward landscaping services, and some high-end residential clients are interested in specialty nursery items. The landscaping business is servicing two territories in Georgia with a potential client base of 800,000.

The two companies generated approximately $3.4M in Revenue in 2022 with a cash flow margin of 21%.

Competition

There are a few competitors, but none is considered critical to either of the two businesses.

- - Among the competitors, Gibbs Landscaping is the only relevant competitor in the area for the landscaping business.
 - Their competitive advantages are that both territories in Georgia have free assistance in lead generation for revenue opportunities (daily) that the new competitors would not have.
 - Besides having a monopoly for some specialty plants, the wholesale nursery also carries a few items for which the business is the sole source, and the owner receives requests from across the country.
