Bottled Water and Non-Alcoholic Beverages

The Company just finished its investment cycle and now is seeking for a partner who will assist the domestic and international market penetration as well as development of new products.

Serbian market began to consider the proper hydration as highly important health factor, and that has a significant contribution to the growth rate of the company's revenue. The consumption of bottled water in Serbia increased rapidly during the last 10 years, and now is already above 100 liters per capita yearly.

The product has high quality water and low content of minerals which makes it suitable for unlimited everyday use. The spring has a large abundance and the water parameter is stable through out the seasons. Water quality is confirmed by the Institute Fresenius, a leading European laboratory for non- medical analysis and by the Center for Hygiene and Human Ecology in Serbia.

The company has already acquired most of the equipment from the most renowned suppliers or production process of bottled drinking water and other water based products.
