25MW PV Solar Photovoltaic Project

The 25MW PV Solar Photovoltaic Project in Romania is a significant renewable energy development aimed at harnessing solar power to generate clean electricity. Located in Romania, this project involves the installation of photovoltaic panels to produce approximately 25 megawatts of renewable energy, contributing to the country's sustainable energy goals. The project not only helps reduce carbon emissions but also promotes energy independence and supports Romania's transition towards greener, more sustainable power sources.
