Washing Powder Manufacturing Business

A synthetic detergent (washing powder) production plant located in the Karaganda Region of the Republic of Kazakhstan. This facility is the only and largest manufacturer using the tower spray drying method in Central Asia.

With a production capacity of 60,000 tons per year, the plant is currently mothballed but can be rapidly reactivated to resume full-scale operations. The facility holds significant business potential, including:

- Prospective contract negotiations with a leading global player in the detergent market
- Opportunities to supply products to state institutions such as hospitals, the military, correctional facilities, and other government sectors

Key assets:

- A five-story production building
- Private railway siding, industrial scales, and a diesel locomotive
- Storage warehouses
- Equipped with Italian manufacturing equipment
- Full production cycle supported by Italian engineering and specialists

This is a unique opportunity to acquire a strategically positioned industrial asset with strong production capacity, advanced infrastructure, and export potential.
