International Online Travel Booking Business

An innovative, fast-scaling travel-tech and media company based in Southern Europe, specializing in curated group trips to over 50 countries. Operating at the intersection of tourism, content creation, and community engagement, the company has rapidly emerged as one of the top three players in its domestic market. Leveraging a unique blend of digital marketing, influencer-led itineraries, and turnkey experiences, the business offers a highly differentiated value proposition in a growing €bn+ market.

Despite the short history, a distinctive and innovative value proposition enabled the company to be recognised as highly qualified and among the first movers in its reference market, represented by rapidly growing and fragmented competitive landscape. The company has a flexible and scalable business model which can be replicated in other countries, paving the way for a successful internationalisation plan for the upcoming years.
