An exploration-stage copper and associated polymetallic project in southern Kazakhstan, offering potential for further geological investigation, resource evaluation and future development.

Investment Highlights

- Location: Southern Kazakhstan
- Copper Resources: 2.1 million tonnes, as reported by the project owner; independent verification required.
- Average Copper Grade: 1.0%
- Silver Content: 22 g/t
- Equity Offered for Sale: 80%
- Licence Area: Reportedly comprises 8 blocks.
- Mineralisation: Copper hosted in sandstone-type formations, with associated silver and a separate copper–tungsten prospect.
- Historical Exploration: Geological studies and exploration work are documented in historical materials.

Historical Technical Indicators

- Forecast Ore Tonnage: 140 million tonnes, historically reported under category P3.
- Reported Copper Grades: 0.1%–2.5%.
- Reported Silver Grade: 22 g/t.
- Additional Copper Estimate: Approximately 2.1 million tonnes of copper metal reported across two areas; the calculation basis requires independent verification.
- Associated Copper–Tungsten Prospect: Historical materials report tungsten oxide (W_2O_3) grades of 0.5%–0.6%, alongside reported copper content of 0.001%–0.002%.

Further Exploration Potential

The project includes multiple mineral occurrences that may warrant additional geological investigation, technical assessment and resource evaluation to establish their commercial potential.

Transaction Overview

The owner is offering 80% equity for an asking price of USD 80 million. Transaction terms, valuation assumptions and the basis of the reported copper resources are subject to confirmation during due diligence.

Next Steps

Further geological data, licence documentation and supporting technical information may be made available to qualified parties following execution of a Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA).
